Before we proceed

We wear different clothes at different places. When do we wear these clothes? Tick (✓) the right answer.

At school/in a party

In a party/at night time

At school/in a party

We wear clothes to cover our body. Clothes protect us from heat, cold, rain and dust. Neat and well ironed clothes make us smart.

We wear cotton clothes in summer. They keep us cool.

We wear woollen clothes in winter. They keep us warm.

Teacher's Tip

Our clothing habits influence our personality. So tell the students to wear the clothes that suit them.

We wear a raincoat to protect us from rain. It keeps us dry.

Our Traditional Clothes

People in different parts of India wear different kinds of clothes. Look at the pictures. People are wearing colourful dresses from different parts of India.

The Most Common Dresses

The traditional dresses are not very common today. In most parts of our country, women wear saree-blouse, salwar-kameez. Men wear trousers-shirts, kurta-pyjama. Boys wear trousers-shirts, jeans-T-shirt. Girls wear salwar-kameez, skirt-top and jeans-top.

Uniforms

What is the colour of your school uniform ?

.....

Just as you wear a school uniform, there are others who wear a uniform too.

Doctor

Lawyer

Nurse

Policeman

Soldier

The uniform of a person helps us to identify his or her profession.

Cloth For Clothes

Cotton

We obtain cotton from plants. The cotton pods are picked and cotton seeds are removed. Thread is spun from the cotton. This thread is made into cloth on a loom. Making cloth from thread is called weaving.

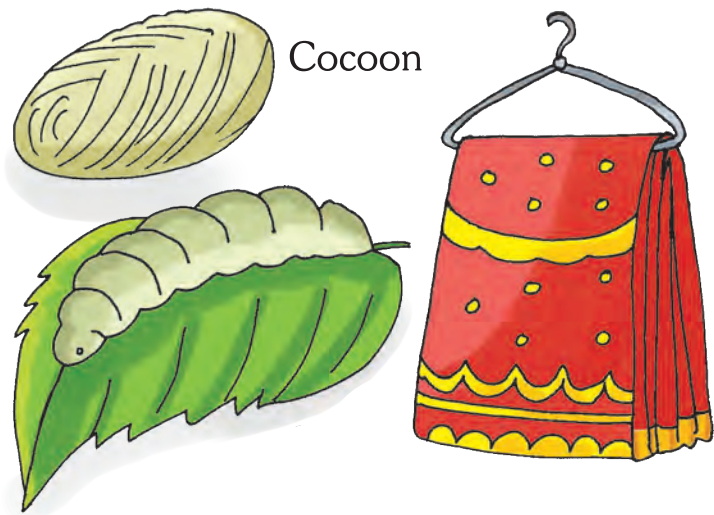

Wool

Wool is obtained from the body of a sheep. The thick hair on the body of sheep is cleaned and made into woollen thread. Wool is used to knit sweaters, caps and socks.

Silk

We get silk from the silkworm. The silkworm feeds on the leaves of the mulberry plant. It gives out a long, sticky thread from its mouth. This thread is wrapped all around its body and becomes the shelter of the silkworm. This shelter of the silkworm is called a cocoon.

FACTUM

We also wear synthetic clothes. They are made from man-made fibres.

People who help us wear proper clothes

The shopkeeper sells different types of cloth materials.

The tailor stitches the cloth to make our clothes.

The washerman washes and irons our clothes for us.

A dry-cleaner cleans our expensive silk and woollen clothes with petrol.
